

Castro Offers Prisoner Trade For Che's Body

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro says he will free 100 "ringleader" political prisoners if Bolivia hands over the remains of slain guerrilla leader Ernesto Che Guevara. But he apparently won't for French writer Regis Debray.

Debray is serving a 30-year term in a Bolivian prison on charges of helping a Castroite guerrilla band led by Guevara. Bolivian President Rene Barrientos has suggested Bolivia might consider exchanging him for Huber Matos, a former revolutionary who broke with Castro and has been a prisoner in Cuba since 1959.

Blasts U.S.

Castro set forth his terms for an exchange Friday night in a two-hour speech in which he described the United States as "a truly universal enemy whose attitude threatens the entire world" and whose "policy reminds us today of the policy of Hitler, the acts of barbarism of Nazism."

The speech, among Castro's most strongly anti-American pronouncements, closed the nine-day Havana cultural congress of more than 400 leftist intellectuals from 70 countries.

A former comrade-in-arms of Castro, Guevara was slain by Bolivian soldiers in October. Officials said the body was cremated. Castro said Cuba's enemies fear Guevara "more dead than alive."

Offers Selection

If Barrientos wants Cuban prisoners freed, Castro said, "We say to him: produce the remains of Maj. Guevara and we will free them immediately."

Castro said the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency or the Pentagon could select the Cuban prisoners to be freed. He made no mention of Matos.

As for Debray, the prime minister said he was "sure Debray would never accept such an exchange." He praised the writer's attitude.

In describing the United States as the "most barbarous aggressors in history," Castro said he referred primarily to "that act of genocide that Yankee imperialism is committing" in Vietnam.

Charges Imperialism

He also mentioned U.S. policy elsewhere in Asia, Africa and Latin America and charged: "There is not a single infamous cause in the world that imperialism does not support, as there is not a single just cause that imperialism does not combat." "The economy of Europe is governed by the United States" and this has caused Cuba difficulty buying goods, Castro said. He said a North American company recently bought the European factory that supplied Cuba with trucks several years ago and cut off Cuba's supply.

Red Dissidents Sent To Prison

MOSCOW (AP)—All four defendants in Moscow's literary trial were convicted Friday of anti-Soviet activities and given sentences ranging from one to seven years imprisonment as demanded by the prosecution, secret police sources reported.

The verdict and sentences came a few hours after Pavel M. Litvinoff, grandson of the former Soviet foreign minister, and Mrs. Yuli M. Daniel, wife of the imprisoned writer, denounced the closed trial as "a stain on the honor of our state" and called upon world public opinion to condemn it. Their statement to Western newsmen said the trial was rigged from start to finish and shot through with illegalities.

The sentences demanded by the prosecution were:

—Seven years for Yuri Galanskov, 28, who was charged with currency violations as well as anti-Soviet propaganda.

—Five years for Alexander Ginzburg, 31, who has acknowledged compiling a book, published only abroad, on the literary trial of Daniel and Andrei D. Sinyavsky.

—Two years for poet Alexei Dobrovolsky, 29, the only one of the four to plead guilty and testify against the others, and —One year for Miss Vera Lashkova, 21, who acknowledged typing manuscripts for Ginzburg and Galanskov.

THIS IS A PICTURE with a story. The picture shows results of a break in a high pressure water main in Detroit's suburban Shelby Township, four miles north of Utica, where water shot almost 100 feet in the air and was carried downwind 1,000 feet. The break was in a 96-inch water main only a month old and it poured out 1,000 gallons a minute. Chief Photographer Wes Stafford of the Utica Sentinel photographed the break and got soaked in the process but changed clothing and drove to Detroit to get this picture to Associated Press Wirephoto for distribution on its network. Stopped for a traffic violation, he was jailed and had no driver's license on his person. City Editor Dewitt Hendricks of the Sentinel drove to his home and got his license from his wet clothes and took it to Detroit to spring him from jail. And here's the picture. Hardly any trouble at all! (AP Wirephoto)

Fear 41 Yanks Lost:

Marine Helicopter Down Near DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — A big U.S. Marine helicopter crashed into a mountain south of the demilitarized zone five days ago and all 41 Americans aboard are feared killed, the U.S. Command reported today.

Rescue parties were waiting for the weather to improve before setting out for the rugged crash site. If they found all the men on the craft dead, it would be the worst helicopter disaster of the war.

Pending further reports, the U.S. Command listed as missing the five-man Marine crew and 36 passengers—31 Marines, three Navy men, one Army man and a civilian employee of the Army's post exchange system.

Viet Cong guerrillas are known to operate in the area and the command declined to give a detailed report on the crash because, it said, "additional information might endanger the lives of the survivors, if there are any."

Weather Factor

The command said the humpbacked CH53 helicopter, the largest troop-carrying type operating in South Vietnam, crashed Monday night on a trip from Dong Ha, 11 miles south of the DMZ, to Phu Bai, 49 miles farther south. One spokesman said poor weather was a factor in the crash.

The wreckage was spotted Friday morning by an observation plane. An Air Force rescue helicopter hovered over the site for a few minutes but had to leave because of worsening weather. The rescue crew reported no sign of life on the ground.

A Marine spokesman in Da Nang said fighter-bombers have blasted a small landing zone in the overhanging forest. But efforts to get rescuers in by ground or air were thwarted by rain and fog.

Hit Steep Peak

One officer said the CH53 helicopter had slammed into the side of a peak so steep that rescuers might have to lower themselves to the wreckage on rope.

In ground fighting Friday, a Communist mortar barrage killed six U.S. Marines and wounded 16 at a command post 16 miles southeast of Phu Bai, a U.S. spokesman said. The position is held by Marines of the 5th Regiment, recently shifted from south of Da Nang to bolster allied defenses in South Vietnam's northernmost two provinces.

At the opposite end of the country, guerrillas fired Thursday on two American river patrol boats on the Hau Giang River 96 miles southeast of Saigon. A team of Seals, the Navy's experts in unconventional warfare, dropped in by helicopter and killed five guerrillas in a bunker. One Seal was killed.

Friday Quiet

The U.S. Command reported only small skirmishes and a Vietnamese military spokesman said Friday "was a very quiet day."

In the air offensive over North Vietnam, U.S. warplanes flew 91 missions. Targets included the Yen Bai airfield 78 miles northwest of Hanoi, a supply point on an island 45 miles east of Haiphong, a railroad yard 35 miles south of Hanoi and a truck convoy near the Mu Gia pass.

Marine pilots raided surface-to-air missile sites north of the demilitarized zone.

Air Force B52 bombers twice raided enemy buildup areas near the Cambodian frontier today. One attack was 22 miles northwest of Saigon in Hau Nghia Province, where Communist attackers held the provincial capital for three hours Monday.

For the second straight day, the eight-engine Stratofortresses avoided the demilitarized zone, where Soviet-built antiaircraft missiles were fired at them Thursday. U.S. Marine jets kept up attacks on suspected missile sites.

On Saigon's waterfront, U.S. troops were called to unload essential military cargo after South Vietnamese dockworkers struck in sympathy with the city's striking electrical workers.

Cardinal Vagnozzi In Finance Post

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today named Egidio Cardinal Vagnozzi, former apostolic nuncio to the United States, to head the Vatican's financial agency.

Cardinal Vagnozzi, 61, elevated to the purple last June, will head the Vatican's Prefecture for the Commission of Economic Affairs. The commission was formed last August to unify control of all the church's properties, liquid assets and fiscal affairs.

Pentagon Junks Costly Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, confronted with rising war costs, has junked a $175 million program to develop a new and bigger atomic warhead for land-based missiles.

At least some of the funds will be used to modernize existing single warheads for older rockets while billions are spent to equip latest weapons with highly advanced multiple warheads that allow a missile to split in midflight and hit several targets instead of just one.

The Defense Department announced Friday night cancellation of the new warhead's development after informing members of Congress.

Involved was the Mark 17 re-entry vehicle being developed by Avco Corp. of Wilmington, Mass. The Pentagon said $45 million had been spent on the 7-foot-long Mark 17 device since April 1966, with spending of another $130 million envisioned by July 1970.

Avco also produces the older Mark 11 series of single warheads used on earlier Air Force Minuteman missiles, many of which are trained on targets in the Soviet Union and Red China. The Pentagon said it decided after a recent re-evaluation of requirements to improve the capability of the present Mark 11 series rather than continue into additional research or heavy production of a new re-entry vehicle.

The Pentagon would not discuss why a new single warhead had been planned and also declined to discuss the capability it wants in the reworked Mark 11.

Sources said, however, the cancellation could be viewed as a re-emphasis of the trend toward multiple warheads.

Pentagon scientists, after long study of the growing antimissile defense, have decided the best way to penetrate it would be to send over more missile-carried nuclear bombs than the Soviets have missile interceptors—a sort of shotgun approach.

The newly authorized Air Force Minuteman III will carry aloft three warheads, each of which can be directed from space to widely separated targets in enemy territory.

The Navy also has been authorized Poseidon missiles for its Polaris nuclear submarines. These missiles, which can be launched underwater, will carry as many as 10 nuclear bombs.

LBJ Fears To Dicker For Peace: McCarthy

Humphrey Says Feud On War Could Beat LBJ

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey warned California's feuding Democrats today that disagreements over the Vietnam war could defeat President Johnson in November.

"A Republican candidate could possibly be elected, if by our disunity and disarray we help him," the vice president said.

Humphrey, in California on a political peace-making mission from Washington, made his unity plea in a speech prepared for delivery to a Democratic conference launching the state party's 1968 campaign.

McCarthy Active

But he found himself competing with U.S. Sen. Eugene McCarthy, from his own state of Minnesota, who also is in Fresno, campaigning against a pro-Johnson slate of delegates in the June presidential primary.

McCarthy, a Democrat who opposes the war, is backed by a slate of peace delegates.

At stake in the primary are California's votes at the National Democratic convention, a bloc second in size only to New York's.

"If you want to continue our progress, re-elect Lyndon Johnson," Humphrey said.

Humphrey, who supports the war, said "there is room for disagreement, discussion and debate in this party."

"No Third Party"

"Either President Johnson or a Republican will be elected next November," said Humphrey. "There are not going to be any third-party candidates elected. A third-party candidate or a fourth-party candidate could tip the scales against one of the major party candidates—not for anything... but against."

In California, the antiwar Peace and Freedom Party claims it has enough registered party members to qualify for the California presidential primary ballot—and hopes for the support of liberal Democrats who oppose the war. A conservative third party already has qualified — the American Independent Party of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

'Santa' Admits Bank Robbery

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A 27-year-old Ravenna man accused of walking into a Newaygo bank dressed as Santa Claus robbing it of $11,915, pleaded guilty to a federal charge of bank robbery at his arraignment Friday.

U.S. District Judge W. Wallace Kent continued $5,000 bond on Arthur C. Kass. No date was set for a hearing.

Kass was accused in the Dec. 20, 1967 holdup of the Grant State Bank at Grant.

State Police said a man dressed in a "Santa" suit walked into the bank, pointed a shotgun at a teller and ordered a box he carried to be filled with money. Most of the loot was recovered, State Police said.

Sihanouk Talks Fruitless

U.S. May Still Invade Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The war is likely to come under fire when Congress convenes Monday. Public hearings on war policy have been promised by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which includes some of the Senate's chief critics of American involvement in the conflict.

In Salt Lake City, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey argued Friday that U.S. security is bound up with that of other nations.

"We are not in Southeast Asia to make war," he said in a speech. "We are in Southeast Asia to maintain peace—and peace sometimes comes at a high price. We can't afford to let little fires break into conflagrations."

In such instances, he said, "we will have to weigh the situation very carefully."

Ask Investigation

As an outgrowth of the visit paid Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia this week by U.S. special envoy Chester Bowles, the Asian ruler has asked the largely inactive International Control Commission to strengthen itself and do more investigation of complaints that Communist troops are using Cambodian border areas as a haven from the Vietnam War.

Although the Bowles-Sihanouk talks were fruitful, making the commission effective will probably require long-term effort, Bundy said.

The commission's members are Poland, Canada, and India.

In San Antonio, a spokesman for President Johnson said the President considers the Bowles mission "useful." The spokesman did not elaborate and said further comment from Johnson was not expected.

Romney Avoids Off-Cuff Talk In Campaigning

By The Associated Press

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, the antiwar Democrat who would like to snatch his party's presidential nomination away from President Johnson, is hitting harder in his criticisms of the administration's war policy.

In a speech Friday at the University of California at Los Angeles the Minnesota senator charged the administration with being "afraid to negotiate" to bring the war to an end.

McCarthy today was in the third day of a six-day campaign for the California presidential primary.

Crime

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)

—Michigan Gov. George Romney accused President Johnson today of slackening federal efforts to combat organized crime and said it will take Republican leadership to create "a genuine crusade" against the underworld.

Romney said Congress should authorize the use of wire-tapping and electronic eaves-dropping by laymen under specific court orders, as organized crime takes far more money from poor people in the cities than the war on poverty is spending.

He said Johnson has promised but has not delivered legislative proposals to deal with organized crime.

day, was putting in a good word for Johnson as often as possible to offset McCarthy's barbs. The vice president's itinerary included a major gathering of party leaders in Fresno.

Romney Cautious

At the other end of the nation, Michigan Gov. George Romney put in a 17-hour day Friday as he launched his bid for victory in the March 12 New Hampshire primary.

Romney, only announced contender for the GOP presidential nomination, said he will give a detailed accounting of his ideas about Vietnam in a speech in the next few days.

Meanwhile, he said, he is not going to voice off the cuff opinions about the war.

"To hit a point or two here is to imperil myself the way I have in the past by answering press questions on Vietnam," Romney said.

Reaction Good

The governor said his first day of wooing the New Hampshire voter—in sidewalk encounters, at factory gates, in crowded living rooms—was a good one. "I've had a friendly reception all along the line," he said.

In his UCLA address, McCarthy said: "The late President Kennedy once said, 'This nation will never negotiate out of fear. But it will never fear to negotiate.' I suggest that this administration is afraid to negotiate."

Militarily, morally and diplomatically, the antiwar candidate said, the war cannot be justified.

"We can no longer say that the good that may come with victory is in any way proportionate to the harm and destruction which this war has already cost us," he said.

Doubts Harm

In Springfield, Mass., Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien predicted the McCarthy candidacy will not harm the Democrats' unity.

"Unity within the party will be as high as it has been at any time since 1932," O'Brien said. "National leaders will march shoulder to shoulder into the national elections this fall."

Elsewhere on the political scene there were these developments:

—An Alabama Republican leader, former congressman James D. Martin, said that in 1964 he served as a personal emissary from Gov. George Wallace to Sen. Barry Goldwater to propose a Goldwater-Wallace national ticket—for the GOP. Goldwater rejected the idea, Martin said.

LSD Trip Blinds 6

WASHINGTON (AP) — The case of six Pennsylvania college students who were permanently blinded by staring at the sun during an LSD "trip" is spurring a nationwide federal search for other such incidents.

Shortly after The Associated Press learned Friday of the Pennsylvania case, federal health officials announced a state-by-state survey to see if other persons have lost their sight while under the influence of the powerful hallucinogen.

Federal officials had known of the case since last November but a spokesman said no study was undertaken earlier because of policy questions involving federal and state jurisdictions.

The six college students, identified only as juniors at an unnamed western Pennsylvania college, suffered total and permanent blindness last spring while staring at the sun in an LSD-induced trance.

Health officials said it was the first instance they knew of in which total blindness resulted. But they noted another case last May in which four students at the University of California at Santa Barbara permanently lost their reading vision under nearly identical circumstances.

Norman M. Yoder, commissioner of Pennsylvania's Office of the Blind, said the Pennsylvania youths had lain on their backs because they thought it was a good position for experiencing the effects of the drug "and were not consciously looking at the sun." He said doctors surmise the drug caused the students' eyelids to remain open.

Yoder, interviewed by telephone from his office in Harrisburg, said the Pennsylvania students had gone in the morning to a wooded area within walking distance of the college campus. They were found that afternoon, about six hours later, by fellow students who knew of the drug-taking plans. The victims were helpless when they were found, Yoder said.

"I think it's a terrible price to pay for kicks," said Yoder. All six of the students had used LSD previously, he said.

The young men are receiving rehabilitation services from the Pennsylvania Department of Welfare, said Yoder.

Dr. Leon Jacobs, deputy assistant secretary for scientific affairs for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, expressed hope "the demonstration of what a terrible thing happened to them may keep other kids away from it (LSD)."

Thousands Ask Return To EST

Petitions carrying the names of about 3,000 Delta County residents and calling for a return to Eastern Standard Time have been received by Escanaba City Clerk Don Guindon and forwarded to the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, which is spearheading the time change in the Upper Peninsula.

The signatures are of residents in all parts of the county — Rapid River, Rock, Gladstone, Garden, Bark River, Escanaba — who are petitioning that:

"We the undersigned residents of the Upper Peninsula respectfully request that the U. P. (except for Menominee, Dickinson and Gogebic counties) be returned to the Eastern Time zone; to the time observed by the 12 eastern counties of the Upper Peninsula for more than 20 years."

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and other groups and organizations are participating in the effort to bring the U. P. back into the Eastern Time zone. Scores of people have been active in Delta County on behalf of the petition.

City Clerk Guindon said that individuals who have not been contacted to sign one of the petitions may affix their signature to a petition in his office at the City Hall. Petitions are also for signing at Nelson's Cash Store and at the Neisner Store.

The petitions from Delta

County are being forwarded to Jerry Pulliam, executive vice president of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce.

From Marquette the petitions are forwarded to Washington, D. C. and the Secretary of Transportation.

The objective of the petitioners is to return to what was a desirable time situation for 20 years. Under the Uniform Time Act of 1966 the U. P. was placed in the Central Time zone — separate from the remainder of Michigan.

To continue in the Central Time zone will put the U. P. out of step with both Lower Michigan and Wisconsin, Pulliam said.

To date more than 12,000 signatures of Upper Peninsula residents have been affixed to petitions asking that Eastern Standard Time be restored to the region.

Trial Scheduled In Timber Case

Jerome DeBacker, 43, of Rte. 1, Cornell, pleaded innocent Friday when arraigned on a charge of illegal cutting and removing of timber before Municipal Judge Edward Dembowski of Marquette.

Trial was set for Thursday, Jan. 18. DeBacker was released from custody after posting $100 bond.

DeBacker was arrested by State Police Thursday. He was charged with cutting and removing hardwood logs from property in Wells Township, Marquette County, owned by Robert Dagenais, Rte. 1, Escanaba.

The piano accordion was not introduced in the United States until 1910 when it came to the vaudeville stage from Europe.

Report Mumps Cases In Area

Mumps have been occurring in Delta and Menominee counties "quite frequently" in the past month, it is announced by Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director of the Delta-Menominee District Health Department.

Questions regarding the new live mumps vaccine has come to the Department and Dr. Cretens in reply to some of the more pertinent inquiries said:

"Mumps are most frequent in young, school age children. About 15 per cent of the reported cases, however, do occur after puberty. Complications of mumps are rare excepting in teen age and older males. About 10-20 per cent of older males do have complications. In about 30 per cent of persons infected with mumps, there are no symptoms whatsoever."

"The new mumps vaccine is much like measles vaccine in that it is a live vaccine. The mumps vaccine has even fewer effects than measles vaccine, however. Mumps vaccine is reported to produce about 90 per cent or slightly higher immunity," Dr. Cretens continued.

"This vaccine is of use for children approaching puberty and beyond. It can be used on younger children, but at present it is not recommended for general use in younger children. Live mumps vaccine can be used in adults after exposure, but its effectiveness is not proved through case studies as yet."

"Live mumps vaccination is not available at the Health Department, but can be obtained from the family physician," she said.

AFTER ABOUT A MILE through the woods, a red stop sign marks the end of the dirt road and the beginning of the Wixtrom farmyard—a clutter of farm buildings — a weathered, hand-hewn barn . . .

Translator Wixtrom Is Language Genius

By ANTHONY HAYNES
Of Panax Newspapers

WITCH LAKE—The first sign that catches the eye on M-95 from Humboldt to Iron Mountain is the one that tells the traveler that it's the Leif Ericson Highway that he's on.

That sign should, with a bit of imagination, set the mood for your trip through the quiet land of woods and waters that M-95 dissects.

You drive south slowly, watching for deer and red-bearded Vikings, and just as you catch your first glimpse of Witch Lake another sign grabs you.

The sign says, "Wixtrom Translations—Business and Personal Letters—Scientific—Technical—10 Languages" and a black arrow points up a dirt road.

Perplexed, you say "What the hell?" and turn up the little dirt road.

After about a mile through the woods, a red stop sign marks the end of the dirt road and the beginning of the Wixtrom farmyard—a clutter of farm buildings — a weathered, hand-hewn barn, a small house, sheds, old trucks and rusting farm equipment—a black '51 coupe with "Translation Service, 10 Languages" painted on its door and another sign pointing toward the home of the Translator.

Boarded Deer Hunters

Don Wixtrom welcomes you—almost shyly — and brings you into the huge kitchen where you meet his wife, Marilyn, while a couple of kids peek at you from around corners.

They were just getting the house back in order, Mrs. Wixtrom apologized, because they'd been boarding 20 deer hunters (who got nine deer) for a week. You ask Wixtrom how he got into the translating line, and he invites you upstairs to his "office."

Republic School Graduate
The office contains a battered trans-oceanic radio that gets Voice of America in Europe but not the Ishpeming station — "Something wrong with it," Wixtrom explains—about 2,000 books and a violin that he got for his wife's birthday and that he's learning to play.

Wixtrom's 39 years old, extremely modest with thin blonde hair and white rimmed glasses. He tells you that he graduated from Republic High School in 1946, that he studied one year of Latin while there, can't remember any of it, and that he worked on his dad's farm (where he still lives) until 1948.

Methods Of Study
In 1948, he found himself in Morgan Heights Sanatorium with tuberculosis, and for the next two years he occupied his mind learning Spanish, Finnish and Swedish.

How did he learn the languages?
Listening to short wave radio

DON WIXTROM of Witch Lake — father of three, maple syrup manufacturer, deer hunter and lodge operator, do-it-yourself carpenter, rutabaga farmer and the U. P.'s master of 10 languages.

broadcasts, tape recording them for study, and reading foreign language editions of the Reader's Digest.

Wixtrom fully recovered and went back to the 320-acre farm where he and his father raised "some cattle, oats and hay, cut a little wood, and built their present home."

Met Chief Translator

His interest in languages was renewed in 1952 when he met the chief translator for the British Foreign Service, Robert Thompson. Thompson was visiting in Iron Mountain and came out to the tiny Witch Lake First Baptist Church to speak and met Wixtrom, encouraging him to continue his study of language.

Wixtrom did, using the same methods that he practiced during his illness.

Over the years, he added seven more languages (Russian, French, Dutch, German, Italian and Portuguese) to his repertoire translated letters at a dollar or a dollar-fifty each, went to Northern Michigan University for a year in 1957, worked for the federal agriculture department out of Escanaba for awhile and got married in 1961 to a woman who is bi-lingual also. His wife speaks her second language with her fingers, though. She has two sisters who are deaf and dumb.

In 1965 he applied for a translator's job with the Philadelphia firm of Frank C. Farnham that does scientific translation and documentation.

450 In World

He got the job, and they've sent him so much work that he's been a full-time translator ever since.

"Before this," Wixtrom says, "the biggest translation job I had was translating some letters for the Marquette County Historical Society in 1957. As I recall, they were written in old German script and presented some difficulties."

Handwriting isn't the only problem that confronts the 450 or so professional translators (of which Michigan claims five) in the world, Wixtrom noted.

"A good deal of translating involves highly technical and scientific subjects," he said. "This requires the translator to have an extensive and quasi-professional acquaintance with the terminology and jargon in a wide range of special subjects."

Work Suspended In November

For example, he's presently translating a book of sailing directions for the coast of Venezuela. Nothing new, though; he's translated similar directions for the coasts of Spain and Holland. However, there is a story connected with his present assignment.

It seems the Farnham Co. sent Wixtrom the book in October asking that it be translated for the end of November.

Wixtrom, the devoted deer hunter, returned the book to Philadelphia reminding his employers that November was deer hunting season. They returned it to him with a new January deadline.

Very Talented Man

That's the kind of fellow Wixtrom is. Quite happy living in the woods, translating (at an average of one cent a word) scientific treatises and "growing some rutabagas."

Asked to explain his "glossolalia" or gift of tongues, Wixtrom shrugs and says he doesn't think he's above average intelligence or anything, "it's just that I'm very interested in languages and have worked very hard learning them. I think that anybody who's good at something has worked hard at it."

Dr. Helmut Kreitz, head of Northern's foreign language department, calls Wixtrom a "very talented man." In fact, Kreitz had hoped to have Wixtrom in his department next fall teaching a three-hour translator's course.

Greatly Neglected Field
"Translating is a greatly neglected field," Kreitz says, "and we're in a time when translators for big businesses and governments are in high demand."

Wixtrom was very enthusiastic about the idea of teaching but a lack of departmental funds has postponed the planned course until the 1969 fall semester.

Meanwhile, your conversation with the U. P.'s only translator has wandered and you get back to business by asking him if he can speak the language he translates.

"Not very well," he smiles. "Oh, I can make those old Finns in Republic understand me, but I wouldn't say I'm proficient."

Here again, though, Dr. Kreitz finds Wixtrom talented. "I speak German to him when I call him," he says "and he stays right with me."

It's getting late, and you rise to say goodbye. On the way out the door you notice another sign leaning against the house. It's got a black arrow too and says, "Maple Sugar."

Wixtrom makes about 60 gallons of it each spring.

Residents Urged To Debate '68 Foreign Affairs

A program designed to involve community residents in "Great Decisions 1968" through informal discussion groups is being promoted by Luther M. Barrett, chairman of the International Relations committee of the Escanaba Kiwanis Club.

Barrett, superintendent of the Escanaba Area public schools, said the purpose of the program is to stimulate educational and intellectual discussion about international affairs.

Sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association of New York N.Y., the program focuses attention on eight important foreign policy issues facing the United States in 1968.

Program Described

Barrett said he would be willing to order discussion and resource materials for any group in the community who wishes to participate in the program.

"This is how the program would work," Barrett said. "Eight couples form a discussion group. The number can be smaller, but eight is a preferred number as there are eight discussion topics in eight weeks. The group gets together at one of the homes to discuss the topic of the week. One couple, possibly the host couple, would be the resource people for that particular week."

Each resource booklet from the Foreign Policy Association costs $2.50, he said.

Barrett said he has asked Kiwanians to sign up by Jan. 22 so he can obtain the resource materials to time the start of the program in Escanaba with the national beginning during the week of Feb. 4.

Topics Listed

Next Monday noon, he added, Dr. Walter Holmlund, director of International Relations for Northern Michigan University, Marquette, will be the guest speaker at the Kiwanis meeting.

The eight discussion topics are:

1. The Middle East — What Prospects for Enduring Peace? 2. Brazil — Key to Latin America's Future? 3. Upheaval in Communist China — What Outlook for Cultural Revolution?

tion? 4. Britain After Empire—

New Role for an Old Ally?

5. The "Other War" in Vietnam — Can Pacification Succeed?

6. The Two Germanies — Roadblock to East-West Dialogue?

7. Dollars, Trade and Aid — What Policies for World Prosperity?

8. American Power and Foreign Policy — Is the U.S. Overextended?

Barrett said if a discussion group is organized and desires to order materials direct, they may do so at $2.50 per booklet from Foreign Policy Association, 345 East 46th St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

What Time, Buddy?

The Marquette Chamber of Commerce has circulated petitions asking action to restore its clocks to Eastern Standard Time, which they observed for many years before Congress passed the Uniform Time Act.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and other governmental and civic groups in the mid-Upper Peninsula endorsed the Marquette Chamber's request and the three eastern Upper Peninsula counties of Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce had not observed Central Standard Time anyway.

The Menominee Herald-Leader has taken an editorial position in opposition to the Marquette Chamber's request and so has Radio Station WJMS of Ironwood, run by Bill Johnson, who has so much temerity that he used some of it years ago opposing the re-election of Soapy Williams for governor.

The view of the Upper Peninsula from the Lower Peninsula is a poor one at best — the fogs of Mackinac are a great obscurant, apparently, and the distance blues the vision. In this matter of time our city cousins to the south think we're a little addled, especially so since we do not agree among ourselves here in the Upper Peninsula about what time we want.

Roger Williams of the Herald-Leader says that with Eastern Daylight Time in the Upper Peninsula there "would still be daylight at 10:30 in the evening." Bill Johnson tops him by suggesting "There will be sunlight at 11 at night."

And Johnson mourns "If the Marquette Chamber would have let well enough alone, this would not have become a possibility. We are only kidding ourselves if we think Lower Michigan won't overwhelmingly endorse daylight time." (Michigan votes on time in November.)

We have set up a forum on a time standards in which groups are urging that we adopt this or that time standard because it would be best for everyone when really they mean that it would be best for them. Thus in Marquette, while the Chamber there urges Eastern Standard Time for the U. P., Elroy Strand, manager of WLUC-TV of Marquette, says "90 per cent of all of our warehouse distribution and delivery by common carriers comes through Wisconsin, which is in the Central Time Zone. A change such as is being promoted by the Marquette Chamber would be detrimental to the economic growth of the Upper Peninsula and would certainly cause a great amount of confusion."

The TV station was very active earlier in beating the drums for Central Standard Time and it must be suspected of having its own interests in mind when it suggests that it would be a calamity if Marquette were to return to its accustomed use of Eastern Time. The station is owned in Green Bay, Wis., and gets its programming from there and to have its listeners on a different time schedule than Green Bay won't help its audience ratings because people might still be on the golf courses at 11 o'clock at night using up the last of Bill Johnson's late, late sun.

Menominee's problem is municipal schizophrenia. It doesn't really set its own time standard, it conforms to that of Marinette, Wis., just across the Menominee River and with that of the State of Wisconsin, with which it is so closely oriented in its business and social relationships. It really makes great good sense in Menominee to be on Wisconsin Time, so it will be found there, no matter what that time may be called. This is an immensely practical thing which should not be dignified with learned debate, because the decision is in before the debate starts.

Escanaba and Marquette are under these same pressures, but in a much more anemic way. Iron Mountain, being a near-border city, is more pressured to conform to Wisconsin and has opposed Marquette's move; Ironwood (and Bill Johnson) even moseys.

There still is some objective thinking on the issue and it stresses that the Upper Peninsula can use daylight for more of its illumination if it is on Eastern Time than if it is on Central Time.

For 20 years Escanaba and Marquette observed Eastern Time — like the Lower Peninsula — and liked it. They'd like it back. The new federal Uniform Time Act, unless states exempt themselves, makes it mandatory to have uniform observance of Daylight Saving Time in the summer months. Upper Peninsula opponents stress this in opposition to it: saying that we'd be on "Double Eastern Time" in the summer and hopelessly out of gear with Wisconsin watches, but this wouldn't be so because while we were advancing our clocks on the last Sunday in April, Wisconsin would be doing the same thing.

We're observing democracy at work and it's difficult enough in politics but almost impossible chronometrically calling for a clock with four hands.

Diabetic, 64, Survives 3 Days Lost In Forest

SUDBURY — Several months ago at the height of the hunting season, 64-year-old Edwin Mills, of Sudbury, Ontario, became lost in thick forest. Many men would have panicked—but not Ed! He followed every survival rule in the book and made up some of his own and he lived to tell about it — to Bill Stinson, regional safety supervisor of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

Mills usually stores with his gun, a whistle, compass, waterproof matches, chocolate bar and map of the area. On this occasion, he had traveled to the hunting area north of Lake Wanapitei with his son.

On leaving the car, he checked his compass and commented that it didn't seem to be working properly. Because he only planned on making a short circle in the bush and returning to the car in an hour, he didn't take his equipment kit.

He had a hunting knife, gun, chocolate bar, a few loose peanuts and 15 rounds of ammunition in his pockets. He did not smoke, so he did not have any matches, just snuff. He was wearing a thermo vest, heavy pants, hat, leather topped rubbers with felt sock fillers and heavy woolen socks.

He started out at 10 a. m. It was cloudy. Some snow on the ground disappeared around noon. At 2 p. m., he realized that he was lost. There was a light northwest wind. He followed old winter roads for a considerable distance ending up at a lake. He continued around the shore of the lake, leaving it at intervals to follow roads in a search for something he could identify.

Near dark, he started to stumble. He then realized that he would have to stay in the bush overnight. Not having any matches to start a fire he knew he would have to move to keep warm during the night. He then prepared a short walking trail at the top of a knoll. He marked it out with white birch which was giving off a fluorescent glow in the twilight.

He wanted a clean path so he would not trip over any obstructions. He didn't sleep very much the first night as it was quite cold. Next morning, Sunday, he started traveling. He was quite worried about his diabetic condition also he had warnings of heart weakness. He had no pills left.

He traversed the lake shore meeting several disappointments on reaching the end of peninsulas. He wanted to follow the lake so a rescue party could find him more easily. On Sunday, when he found himself seeing things like camps and roofs that were not there, he realized he had to be careful not to panic. He traveled very, very carefully and slowly, in fact he said, "I thought at one time that if anyone saw how slow I was going they would think I was the laziest lost man in the world."

Late Sunday he made a shelter from spruce branches and stayed put for the night.

He removed his boots and socks, wringing out his socks and placing them around his waist next to the skin. This helped to dry them.

He claims he had no great desire to eat during Saturday and Sunday. He saw blueberries and other edible berries but he said his stomach seemed to be shrinking. He only wanted to drink water, which he did.

By this time he realized that his diabetic condition was progressively getting worse. He remembered hearing at one time that the Indians used steeped blueberry roots to relieve a diabetic condition. He planned on doing this if he were able to find a camp where he could make a fire.

On Monday morning he felt that if he did not find shelter and food he would not survive much longer. Shortly after he discovered an old alligator that had been used for towing logs. Then he located an old camp that looked as if it had been occupied recently.

He found the door unlocked and L & F was marked on the outside. On opening the door he noticed a wax paper package high up on a wall, hung by a nail. On examining it he found two slices of bread. He knew that with this food and shelter he would survive at least 24 hours longer. (Apparently this is the first time during his lost period that he became hungry).

He looked for matches without success. He looked in the fire box of the stove and found two pieces of charred bread which he cleaned of ashes.

While sitting on a bench he examined the floor, making a minute inspection of the large cracks between the boards. In the third crack he noticed a paper match which he picked up. He then noticed a partly filled coal oil lamp and some paper. He shredded the paper, spilled some oil out and prepared to light the match.

He knew he must not fail as this was the only match. He took a piece of paper and thoroughly cleaned and dried a spot on the stove lid, then said a prayer and lit the match. He now had a fire going in the stove. At this point he noticed emptied food cans in a box and thought of boiling them for soup.

He was planning to use his "last cartridge on a partridge" for food. He was only at the camp for possibly 15 minutes when he heard a plane coming. He ran out the door with his gun. He fired a shot in the air. The occupants of the plane spotted him and landed.

They picked him up and gave him some lunch and then took him to a lake where his son was anxiously waiting with his pills. He was then transported by department plane to Sudbury and to his home by car.

"In addition to this story and summarizing," said Stinson in his report, "my interview revealed the following:"

Mills was 64 years old. He had suffered a diabetic condition and was also treated for a heart condition. At intervals during the two days, he fired signal shots but did not get any response.

There was no indication of panic at any time. He could recall and explain even a minor bruise on his foot and a scraped arm. When he knew he was forced to stay in the bush overnight, he prepared a safe path on which to walk and keep warm.

Stinson: "What equipment would you recommend carrying with one when hunting?"

Mills: "I would not go to the cow pasture without matches. They keep you warm, dry out your clothes, make you comfortable, can signal with fires and cook food, compass checked for accuracy, chocolate bars and knife."

"I weighed 174 pounds on entering the woods and 160 pounds when I returned."

"If a lost person can overcome panic, they have excellent chances of survival in the woods for a considerable length of time. The Indians did this in the early days and lived to a ripe old age."

Percy's Favorite Son Tide Runs Out

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
CHICAGO (NEA)—Illinois' Sen. Charles Percy, already pretty much an outsider in the 1968 Republican presidential race, seems to have been damaged considerably on his home grounds by the episode involving his close brush with enemy fire in Vietnam.

To a lesser extent, he evidently has been nicked also by disclosures that a private fund has been put together to help him defray extraordinarily heavy senatorial expenses.

Some Illinois sources believe the largely negative reaction to these matters will "blow over" and that Percy is still well-fixed to become Illinois' favorite son when the state's delegation to the GOP convention at Miami Beach meets to organize and shape strategy.

One veteran Republican figure argues, however, that Percy's prospects for favorite son have been dimmed by recent events and that the delegation might go to the convention either unpledged or, if unity appeared to require it, pledged to Sen. Everett Dirksen.

Some early responses to the word that Percy, his wife, a staff aide and some others had been exposed to Viet Cong mortar and rifle fire suggested at first that this disadvantage might be gold in the senator's political bank.

The longer-range view, at least among Republican politicians in this state, is that the senator's visit to Dak Son, near the Cambodian border, was, at best, extremely foolhardy and at worst, exhibitionist.

He is being criticized especially for going there in a hired helicopter without a military escort and for taking his wife to a place where only a little while before the Viet Cong had slaughtered 175 civilians.

A photograph taken of Percy by a magazine photographer who accompanied the trip to Dak Son has not helped. It shows him with a 38 caliber revolver at the ready. An AID refugee officer had tossed it to him when the firing began.

"It was just too heroic," grumbles an old Illinois Republican hand.

There is a report, too, that in the time since the Vietnam episode and the breaking of the fund story, demands for Percy on the Illinois speechmaking circuit have fallen off.

The senator may recoup some of his lost ground when he begins giving his first-hand version of his Vietnam trip, but even before these develop-

If we were going into the business of promulgating bridge riddles, we might start with "When is a finesse not a finesse?"

The answer is "When you don't care whether it wins or loses."

North showed considerable moderation when he bid only three hearts after South had rebid his heart suit. It was just as well that he did, because with all the spades bunched in back of the king there was no play for game.

East won the spade lead with the ten and returned the four of diamonds. South's jack forced West's ace and West led a diamond right back. South was in with the queen and took stock. Obviously the deuce of spades opening had been a singleton, so there was no way to avoid the loss of two more spade tricks. He had already lost two tricks and his whole problem was to keep from losing a trump trick also.

South studied further and saw that after all there was a way, provided West held either two or three hearts. He took his king of diamonds and discarded a club from dummy. Then he led a club to the ace and ruffed the last club.

His next play was the ace of hearts. The jack of hearts came next and when West played low, South finessed. The finesse worked and South had his contract.

"How did you work out that finesse?" asked West. "Don't you play for the drop with nine?"

"Not when I am not really finessing," replied South. "I didn't care an iota where the queen of hearts was. If East had it he would win the trick with it. Then it would be up to him to lead something. A spade lead would set up dummy's king. A club or diamond lead would allow me to discard a losing spade and ruff in dummy. I was just making a safety play to insure my contract."

Ann Landers

Scared Of Trouble, Mom Asks Of Law

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the mother who was ready to pull the hair out of her head because her 17-year-old son talks on the phone a lot to his girl. This is a problem?

Our 17-year-old son goes steady with a little snip who is 16. He is with her every night of the week. They either go to the movies or just ride around town. (He has his own car.) Our son's hair is nearly down to his shoulders, with a three-inch turn-up. The girl's hair is straight and stringy and her bangs are so long — I can't figure out how she breathes, let alone sees.

I am scared to death that these kids are going to get into trouble. Last night when I asked my husband to talk to the boy about sex he said, "It's up to the girl's parents to talk to HER."

If the girl gets pregnant is there a law that says our son has to marry her? We live in Michigan.—WORRIED MOTHER

Dear Mother: There is no law that can force a marriage. There is a law, however, that says a father must support his children. It's a mighty sad state of affairs when the mother of a 17-year-old boy has to ask this question. Who raised this kid, anyway.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister is the quiet type but she has a will of iron. She also has tons of energy and is fantastically efficient.

I have four children and am pregnant again. During every one of my pregnancies, my sister has helped me out. I really appreciate her help (she can work rings around any cleaning woman), but I am becoming resentful because she is taking over my home.

Sis comes bursting in at any hour of the morning or night. She polishes, waxes, bakes, cooks, scrubs and tears apart closets and cupboards without even asking me if I want something done. She has made me feel that this is not my home any more.

I have told my husband of my resentment and his advice is, "Tell her off." But it's not as easy as it sounds. I'm afraid if I start, I'll say more than I should and it will be the end of our relationship. Right now I am exhausted from trying to straighten up the house before she comes, I hate letting her do so much of my work. Please help me. — ON THE RAZOR'S EDGE

Dear Edge: Your sister is such a driven, domineering person that there can be no compromise. Either (a) keep quiet or (b) tell her off and hire help to get you through this pregnancy or (c) do the work yourself. I vote for (b) or (c) — and I hope you do, too. You'll feel a lot better.

Confidential to How Do I Fight It: With your hat, Mister, Grab it and run. They say it takes two to make a marriage—a girl who is willing and a mother who is anxious. Get it?

IN THE OLD DAYS!

In Aunt Miranda's day there was no question about whether you went to church on Sunday. You didn't stay home because it was raining or snowing, or because you had a slight headache. You went—by horse-drawn wagons or carriages—a much harder trek than it is today.

Maybe because it was harder, people appreciated it more. Maybe in that era of pre-modern conveniences people had a better sense of values. They seemed to know, at any rate, what was really important.

Of course, the church is just as necessary today as it was in Aunt Miranda's day. Certainly the complexities of our present generation make life's problems seem increasingly abundant. Hadn't we better go to church next Sunday—and see for ourselves!

'Womanly Look' Styles From Italy For Spring

ROME (AP) — While Rome shivers through one of the coldest winters in years, Italian fashion designers turned women's thoughts to warmer weather in spring-summer fashion shows opening today.

Thirty couture houses are presenting their creations for the coming season in a program lasting through Thursday.

The ateliers' staffs had been hard hit by Rome's raging flu epidemic. Designers feared their collections would not be ready on time.

But with characteristic Italian flair and the burning of much midnight oil, a last-minute effort has made the showings possible as planned.

Reasonably Short London designer Hardy Amies has decreed that legs shall be covered but the majority of Italy's top stylists are keeping skirts reasonably short.

The generally held view is that "Women just won't wear maxiskirts in the summer."

Heinz Riva, the young Austrian-born designer who starts the ball rolling in the Rome show, is one who believes that brevity is the soul of chic. He comes out strongly in favor of bared knees, with tunics worn over brief matching skirts or midlength shorts.

Titti Brugnoli, who follows, also opts for a svelte young look. Her slim-fitting, low-waisted dresses have fluttery skirts that leave the knees on view.

Moving Skirt The lowered waist, frequently marked by a belt, and the softly moving skirt are typical of the 1930s influence that is likely to be the prevailing mood of these Italian shows.

But since fashion has never yet done a complete doubletake, the look that now emerges pays no more than lip service to the bulky styles of 30 years ago.

Designers may amuse themselves by repeating the hairdos and accessory fads of that era, but these are merely the commercial gimmicks of the fashion game.

Far more important than the copies of clothes worn in the "Bonnie and Clyde" film is the crystallization of a major fashion change.

Shapely Look The silhouette, which in the recent past varied from the wide and unhampered fashions of the carter craze to the straight-up-and-down military styles, now closes in to achieve a more fitted, shapely look that no longer ignores the curves of the body underneath.

Waists will be well marked, even tiny, and dresses will show a seam at the waistline for the first time in years.

It all adds up to a very womanly look with clothes that cling. From this close-fitting line, skirts will flutter in a provocative flare.

Women Neglecting Cancer Protection

If women do not become aware of the need for "Pap tests," then 300 Michigan women and 14,000 in the nation will die in 1968.

That warning is issued and an appeal sounded to correct the situation by a Michigan cancer expert on behalf of a 1968 Michigan campaign.

Dr. Vainutis K. Vaitkevicius, director for clinical cancer services at Wayne State University adds, "The tragedy is that almost all of these deaths are preventable."

Because cervical cancer, in its early stages, is easy to detect and cure, the Michigan State Medical Society Cancer Committee is urging all Michigan women to get a yearly Pap test. The medical society committee is especially concerned because the majority of the 300 women who die every year in the state will leave small children motherless in the home.

"Twenty years ago a physician named Papanicolaou," explained Dr. Vaitkevicius, "developed a simple test for cervical cancer which we call the 'Pap test.' It is inexpensive, takes only a few minutes, and can be done in a doctor's office."

"But only 18 per cent of adult women living in Michigan have ever had such a test."

"It is tragic that all adult women are not demanding a yearly Pap test," Dr. Vaitkevicius concluded. "If they did, we could eliminate this form of cancer because it is easy to detect and easy to cure."

Ishpeming Team Trounces Eskey

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

A great first quarter by the Escanaba Eskymos here Friday night went down the drain as Ishpeming trounced Coach Bill Howes' cagers, 72-45, for their ninth straight victory of the campaign.

Eskey opened in impressive fashion, battling the hustling Hematites on even terms and grabbing an 18-15 advantage at the end of the first frame.

That was it for the Eskymos, however, as they completely lost their shooting eye. After hitting on seven field goals in the first quarter, they were able to add only four more in the remainder of the contest. They made two in the second period, were blanked from the field in the third and managed two more in the finale.

For the night the Eskymos made only 11 of 59 shots for a lowly 18 per cent. They were much sharper from the free throw line where they converted 23 of 33 attempts.

Inability to find the range doomed the Eskymos early in the second period as Ishpeming went to a 22-18 lead and by halftime Coach Gordy Farrah's Great Lakes Conference leaders had a comfortable 40-27 cushion. They continued to outscore the Eskymos by a wide margin in the third and fourth periods.

A tight, pressing man-for-man defense by Ishpeming helped keep the Eskymos from scoring, but it was more a matter of Escanaba missing even the good shots.

Ishpeming had no such trouble. The Hematites were a shade under 50 per cent from the field, canning 24 of 49 attempts. They added 24 of 34 from the charity line.

Ed Stimac, the lone returning regular on the Ishpeming team, paced the Hematites in scoring with 24 points and played an inspired game on defense. Ron Parkkonen, Tom Simula and Tom Hammar also scored in double figures.

John Moberg led Escanaba's limited attack with three field goals and four free throws for 10 points.

The setback was Escanaba's fifth against four victories. The next Eskey game will be at Marquette Jan. 19.

Escanaba won the jayvee game, 61-51.

One Big Frame Wins For Gwinn

The Gwinn Model Towners made one big period pay off against Holy Name here Friday night, edging the Crusaders by a 76-70 margin.

Down 22-20 at the end of the first frame, Gwinn jammed in 25 points in the second quarter to lead at halftime, 45-36.

Although Holy Name rallied to outscore Gwinn by three points in the second half, it was too little to catch the Model Towners.

The setback was the ninth in 10 starts for the Crusaders who are idle until Jan. 26 when they host Marquette Bishop Baraga.

Gwinn singled the nets with a hot shooting exhibition, connecting on over 50 percent of their shots in the first half. They finished with 31 field goals in 69 attempts for 45 percent and added 14 of 20 from the free throw line.

Terry Froberg led the Gwinn second period surge with 10 points and sophomore Richard Brown added seven.

Holy Name was unable to match the Model Towners from the field, hitting 27 of 73 shots for 37 percent. The Crusaders converted 16 of 20 foul shots.

Junior guard Al Grabowski led Holy Name's early scoring spurt with five field goals in the opening quarter. He led the Crusaders for the night with 23 points while Fran Veldman and Terry Dufour finished with 13 apiece. Froberg took scoring honors for Gwinn with 28.

Gwinn also handled the Crusaders on the boards, coming down with 40 rebounds to 34 for Holy Name. Steve Fisher was Holy Name's top rebounder with nine.

Pott Is Midway Leader In Crosby Golf Action

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—John Pott survived Spyglass Hill's brutal greens—as bumpy as any sand on Treasure Island—but another tough challenge bore down on him today in the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament—Billy Casper.

"I think I aged a couple of years out there," a smiling Pott said after turning in a 71 Friday for the midway lead of 141. "I'm happy about my score on this course."

He should be. It tied the competitive record for the 2-year-old layout.

Spyglass Hill, named for the peak in Robert Louis Stevenson's novel, has played the toughest of the three courses used in the four-day Crosby clambake. And three of Pott's closest rivals for the top spot—Bruce Devlin, Mike Fetchick and Frank Wharton—got their chance to do a little aging today.

To make it worse, the Monterey Peninsula, where the weather was ideal the first two days, got word rain was in the offing. Casper, who has won this

Emeralds Upset By Munising In Conference Tilt

MANISTIQUE — The Munising Mustangs pulled a major Great Lakes Conference upset here Friday night by spilling the Manistique Emeralds, 45-41, in a rugged clash.

The setback snapped a five game victory string for Coach Rudie Brandstrom's cagers. It left them with an overall 5-3 record for the season.

Personal fouls and poor shooting added up to defeat for Manistique. The Emeralds were able to sink only 17 of 72 shots from the field for 24 per cent. At that, they outscored the Mustangs by one bucket.

But it was a different story from the free throw line. Saddled with eight fouls to Munising's one in the first half, the Emeralds watched the Mustangs toss in 13 of 28 free throw attempts for their margin of victory. Manistique hit on seven of 14 from the charity line.

Manistique took command in the early minutes of the game and led by a 12-3 margin midway in the first quarter. With less than two minutes remaining in the half the Emeralds had a comfortable 18-11 lead but the Mustangs rallied to narrow the deficit to 18-16 at halftime.

Munising moved into the lead with a 17-12 scoring edge in the third period and is was nip and tuck to the finish.

Gary Sample took individual scoring honors for Manistique with 18 points while Jim Wickstrom paced Munising with 13.

Manistique won the jayvee preliminary, 60-37.

DETROIT (AP)—It took four hot-shooting Boston Celtics to overcome Dave Bing Friday night.

Normally, when Bing is hot, the Detroit Pistons romp over National Basketball Association opponents.

Despite Bing's 33 points, the Celtics demolished the Pistons 148-126 Friday night with four players combining for 101 points in the contest at Boston.

In other NBA games, Philadelphia dumped Baltimore 133-116. St. Louis beat San Diego 111-89 and San Francisco opened New York 127-117.

Those greens claimed many victims the first two days. Even Pott wasn't happy. "You can't repeat what I think," he said.

If Pott felt that way, how about Jack Nicklaus, who went to a 75 and 146 Friday on Spyglass, including two three-punt holes? Or first-day leader Lou Graham, who limped home with a 78, also for 146? Or Dave Hill, on Graham's neck Thursday, who collapsed to a 77 and 146?

Wharton had the best round of the tournament, 67 at Cypress Friday for 143. But he got Spyglass today. Devlin and Fetchick, both at 142 with Casper, were out there with him.

Arnold Palmer made a charge with a 70 Friday to put him in the 146 group. His address today was Spyglass Hill.

Kuntze Gets Win No. 100

FELCH — Coach Bob Kuntze joined the "100 Victory Club" in Upper Peninsula basketball coaching circles Friday night when his carney Wolves defeated Felch, 92-76, in Big Six Conference action.

The triumph gives Kuntze a career record of 100 victories against 47 defeats at Carney. The Wolves boosted their current season mark to 5-2.

Felch refused to fold before a 28 point explosion by Carney in the first period but couldn't maintain the pace and tallied at halftime, 52-40.

The Wolves displayed deadly shooting eyes, hitting on 34 of their 68 field goal attempts for a torrid 50 percent. Felch also connected on 34 buckets, coming off 90 shots. The Wolves won it from the free throw line where they tossed in 24 of 39.

Box score:

CHASSELL — Trenary stepped outside the Central League Friday night to fashion an easy victory over Chassell, 73-46.

The Comets were in control from the opening tipoff enroute to their seventh victory in 10 starts this season.

Greg Begovac, 5-10 junior, fired in 14 field goals for 28 points to pace Coach Steve Ellis' defending league champs.

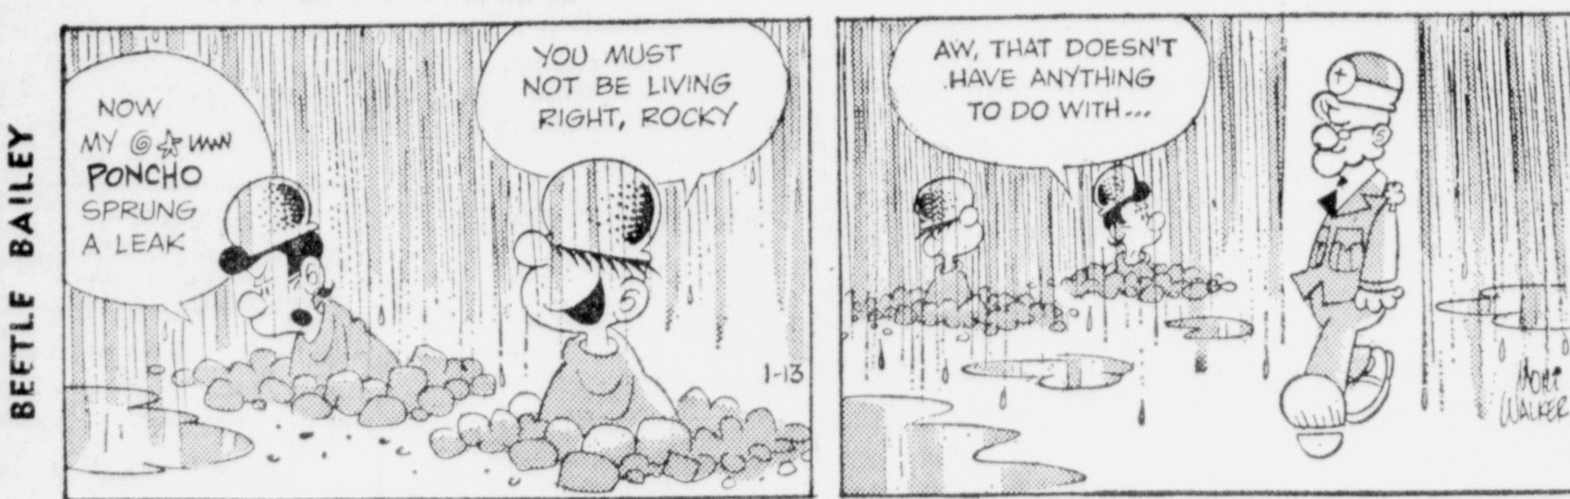

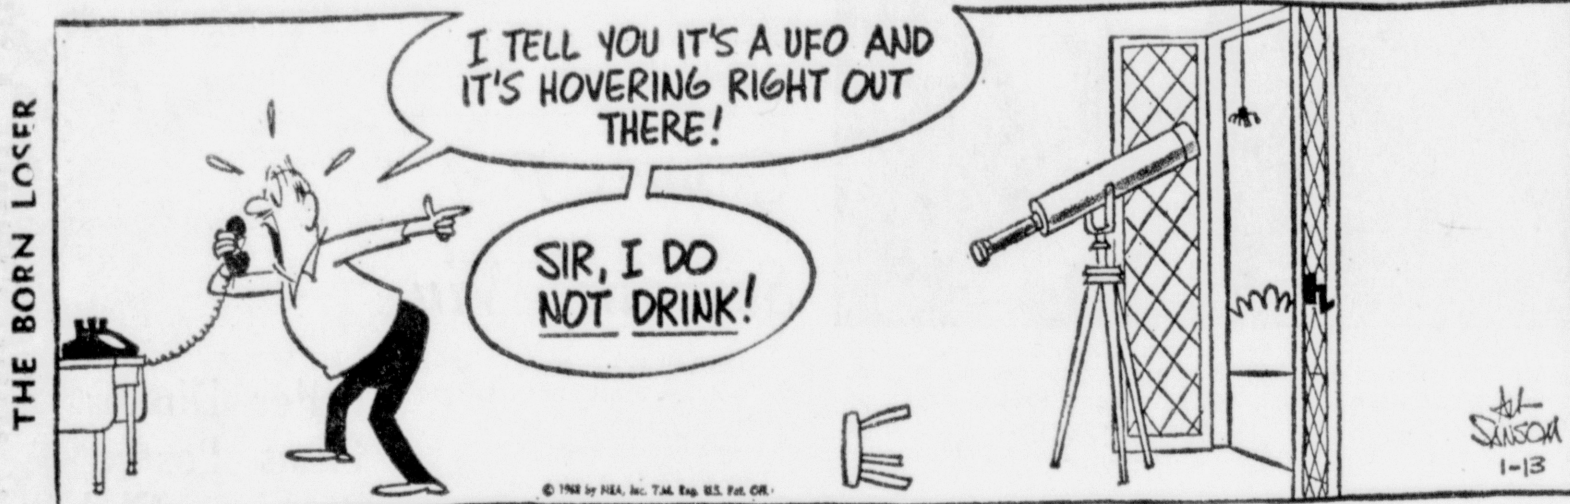

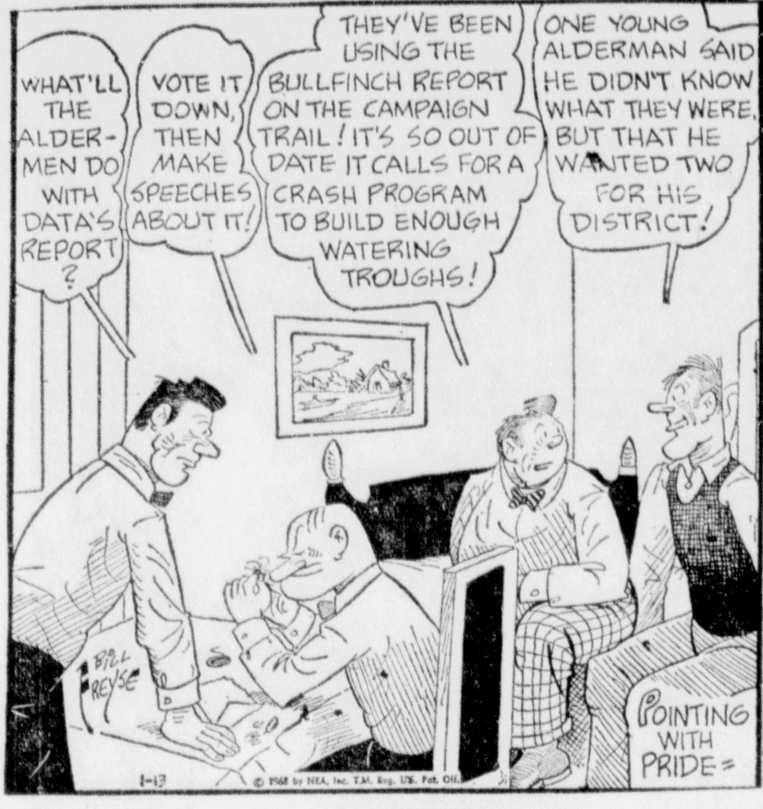

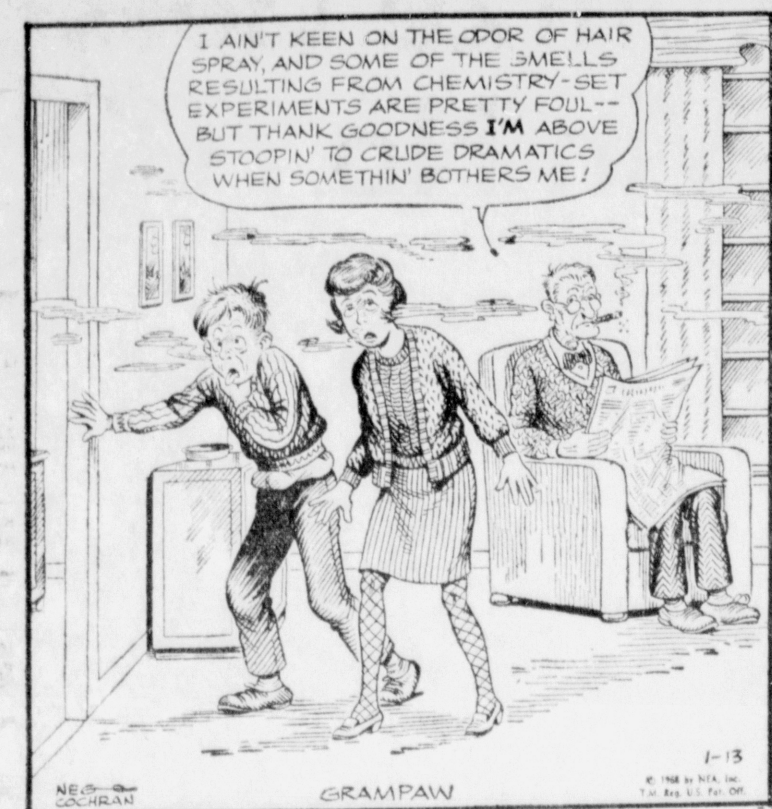

Trenary won the jayvee game, 56-42.

Counties Gain Road Revenues

Michigan counties will gain additional revenue — about $24 million — from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund in 1969 as the result of recently passed increases in the state gas and weight tax, the State Highway Commission reports.

Delta County's share will increase by an estimated $103,121, rising from $706,618 to $809,739, the Commission reports.

Schoolcraft County's gain will be about $50,000 — rising from $344,443 to $394,443.

Other counties and the estimated increase in road revenues in the year ahead are:

Alger from $352,000 to $403,000
Dickinson from $546,000 to $625,000
Luce from $315,000 to $361,000
Mackinac from $421,000 to $482,000
Menominee from $732,000 to $839,000.

The estimates are based on predicted economic conditions and should be used with caution in preparing budgets and construction programs, the commission noted.

Municipalities, which received $49.7 million in 1967, will get an estimated $59.5 million in 1968 and an estimated $71 million in 1969. Announcement of the estimated increase to cities will be made soon.

The state share, totaling $129.9 million in 1967, will increase to an estimated $142.3 million in 1968 and an estimated $163.4 million in 1969.

Carney GI Unhurt

Rescuers Need Rescue

CARNEY — A Carney soldier serving in Vietnam who has participated in helicopter rescues of dozens of American soldiers needed rescue himself this month.

Spec. 4 William E. Peterson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Peterson, was picked up by another U. S. helicopter under Viet Cong fire after his own helicopter had been shot down during a rescue mission.

Except for a few bruises, Peterson escaped uninjured.

In a letter home, Peterson said his helicopter was flying evacuation missions for wounded men after Viet Cong attacks on four U. S. bases.

"We banked right and climbed to a thousand feet at 90 knots when an airburst hit us in the transmission right beside the gunner," he wrote. "It was fired from the base of a mountain from a North Vietnamese Army anti-aircraft gun. My ship shook violently as sparks and shrapnel flew throughout the cabin area. The instrument panel lit up like a Christmas tree with all the warning lights, fire and master caution on. The transmission began to freeze up immediately and we began to go down."

"The pilot kept a cool head and we would have made a safe landing if it hadn't been for the North Vietnamese Army shooting at us while we were going down. . . . At 50 feet off the ground, Charlie shot our tail rotor off and we lost all control. We did five or six fast spins to the left — the tail just kept going around and around."

"We hit a rice paddy first and rolled over on the right side," Peterson continued. "A very hard landing."

Still under fire, Peterson said he went out the pilot's window. "Miraculously, there was already another chopper down there to pick us up. . . . I was never so happy to see a helicopter in my life."

Peterson has served five months in Vietnam with the 1st Air Cavalry Division.

Welding Society To Hear Losse

Robert Losse of Milwaukee will be speaker at the dinner meeting of the American Welding Society, Upper Peninsula Section, to be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 16, at the Old Town Restaurant in Escanaba. Subject of his talk will be "Pressure Vessel Welding and the Construction of Steam Generating Plants."

Losse is vice-president, personnel and industrial relations, and director of quality control for the Harnischfeger Corp. in Milwaukee. Before joining Harnischfeger, he spent four years as manager of quality control and welding, Construction Division, Combustion Engineering, in Windsor, Conn.

While serving in this capacity, Losse supervised the construction of the Upper Peninsula Power Co. generating plant in Marquette. Prior to that time, he had been chief welding engineer for the Electric Boat Co., Groton, Conn.; supervisor, shop metallurgy and welding, Combustion Engineering, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and field engineer for the Lincoln Electric Co.

He is a graduate of Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, with a B.S. Degree in Mechanical Engineering.

Presently he is a member of the American Welding Society — American Society Quality Control, Society for Non-destructive Testing, is a past chairman of the AMS Cincinnati Section and past secretary of the AWS Hartford Section.

The American Welding Society is an organization of engineers, superintendents, foremen, and all persons interested in the advancement of the welding industry. The Upper Peninsula section was organized two years ago, and presently has a membership of 86 from the Marquette, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Menominee and Marinette areas.

Edward J. Farrell

Farrell Named Dog Warden

Edward J. Farrell, a resident of the Delta County area for the past 51 years, has been appointed Dog Warden for Delta County by the Personnel Relations committee of the Board of Supervisors.

Farrell will begin his new duties Monday, working out of the Sheriff's Dept.

All dog complaints should continue to be directed to the Sheriff's Dept. as in the past, said William Butler, county clerk.

Farrell, 55, was born in Marquette. He came to Escanaba when he was four years old and has remained in the area ever since.

He graduated in 1930 from St. Joseph's High School.

He and his wife, Astrid, reside at 119 4th Ave., S. Gladstone, with their youngest daughter, Dianne, a senior at Gladstone High School. He has six other children, Sister Mary Charles of Chicago, James of Pulaaki, Wis., Mrs. James (Patricia) Brusoe of Green Bay, Charles of Sault Ste Marie, Mrs. Wayne (Joyce Ann) Marmalik of Gladstone, and Edward Jr. of Ishpeming.

Farrell has been employed for 11 years with Auger Wholesale Co., Escanaba. He also was employed in construction of the Mackinac Bridge and for four years with Montgomery Ward.

He had been dog warden for the county, will remain with the Sheriff's Dept. as a deputy.

The Board of Supervisors authorized employment of a full-time dog warden last year when it became apparent that the responsibilities of a deputy sheriff left little time for dog control work.

1967 Fire Loss In Bark River Declines Slightly

BARK RIVER — Twenty-five fires in Bark River Township caused an estimated damage of $22,650 during 1967 reports Chief Herman Palmgren of the Bark River Volunteer Fire Dept.

Building losses totaled $8,000 and losses on contents of buildings was estimated at $14,450, a decrease of $2,050 from losses in 1966.

Fire causes included: spreading to dwellings of grass fires, some set by trains, others by careless burning of rubbish; carefires igniting buildings; three due to defective electrical appliances; defective heating device; overheated heating device and disposal of hot ashes.

One dwelling was struck by lightning. Power lines over branches caused other fires and three were from undetermined causes.

The department had two resuscitations, traveled 246 miles, had 254 man hours and made one assist.

Bishop Baraga To Continue Through 68-69

MARQUETTE — A large grant from a "private source" has insured that Marquette Bishop Baraga High School will continue operations for at least one more year.

The school's Board of Education said the grant will amount to one-half the sum paid by six area parishes to operate the school. Indications are it will be between $20,000 and $40,000.

Discontinuance of the high school program has been under consideration because of the increasing problem of financing the educational program.

Although the Board announced that the academic program would continue through June, 1969, it also revealed that it has the authority to sell Bishop Baraga High School property and would be interested in receiving offers.

Warn Fishermen Of Ice Dangers

Recent subzero weather has put enough ice on inland lakes and some of the protected bays in the Great Lakes in the Newberry District for safe walking conditions. There is a layer of 6 to 8 inches of fluffy snow covering the ice. Water seeping up through cracks has caused extreme slushy conditions on some lakes. Snow sled operators are warned of these conditions. Once bogged down it is extremely difficult to remove machines. Fishermen are also warned to be aware of thin ice near inlet and outlet streams, and springs, and near points where currents may wear the ice thin.

Northern Pike: Fishing pressure in general has been slow throughout the district due to prevailing subzero weather. Pike spearing enthusiasts report that the pike have not been very active.

Some pike are being taken by spear and tip-up from East Bay Lake, Alger County, Les Cheneaux Channels, East and West Lake, Mackinac County, Mud and Manistique Lakes, Luce County, and Jamestown Slough (Manistique River), Schoolcraft County.

On Monday, Jan. 8th, Bob McConnell, Curtis, speared a 19 pound (42") northern pike in Big Manistique Lake and Russell Rushford, Curtis, came in a close second the same day with a 15 pound, 2 ounce northern pike from the same lake.

Yellow Perch: There has been very little open-air ice fishing to date. This past weekend some nice perch were reported taken from Les Cheneaux Channels where wigglers are the preferred bait. Some perch were also reported taken from Whitefish and Big Manistique Lakes, Mackinac County and Hulbert Lake, Chippewa County and Indian Lake, Schoolcraft County.

Walleye: The catch on Big Manistique has petered out this week; some are still reported taken from Indian Lake, Schoolcraft County.

Cisco: None are reported taken from Whitefish Lake as yet, however these neotonic-like swimmers have been noted in shanty holes a few times last week. This is fair warning to those fishermen who pursue this exciting game fish. In 1967 there was a good fishery for them during January and early February.

Dr. Sell is a graduate of the Newberry High School, with honors. He received an A. B. degree with a major in chemistry from Northern Michigan University. The degree, Doctor of Medicine, was conferred upon him at the University of Michigan.

His educational pattern continued with a rotating internship at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor that was followed by post graduate study in "The General Practice of Medicine" at Redford Medical Center in Detroit.

He is a member of the Blue Key honorary fraternity and the professional fraternity, Nu Sigma Nu.

Negro Students Picket At School In River Rouge

RIVER ROUGE (AP)—Negro students at River Rouge High School picketed Friday in support of a list of 50 demands, including one for the teaching of a course on Negro history. The pupils, members of a high school group called "Youth for the Study of Afro-American Life and Culture," also charged they frequently are discriminated against in cases of discipline. The school, with about 1,600 pupils, is almost half Negro. Police denied reports that the early morning picketing had resulted in a disturbance of any kind. Police said nobody was arrested.

The Manistique School and Public Library will inaugurate a new system of fines for overdue books beginning on Feb. 1. Fines of two cents per day books that are overdue will continue to add up to the value of the book. Currently there is a maximum ceiling of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students per book, but this is being lifted to encourage patrons to return books on time or renew them for an additional two weeks.

Library patrons are being encouraged to sign up for a new library card which entitles them to check out three books per card for a two-week period. There is no charge for the library card.

All current over-due books should be returned before Feb. 1 or be subject to the additional fee.

Attempts to enter two Escanaba business places are being investigated by city police. The Nelson Floral shop at 914 Ludington St., had intruders frightened from the rear of the building Thursday night when Francis Grenier, who lives upstairs, heard a noise and came down to investigate. The Fairmont Food Co. building front door was tampered with but entry was not gained, officers reported.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court notices to Paul J. Perry, 220 Cedar St., Manistique, Philip J. Beauchamp, Perkins, Dale J. Villeneuve, 608 N. 19th St., Robert L. Anderson, 2111 6th Ave. S., John E. Johnson, Skandia, Mary C. LaCrosse, Rapid River Rte. 2, and Bernard J. Ammel Jr., 412 S. 12th St., all for speeding; Jack N. LaPine, Bark River Rte. 2, improper backing; Norman E. Dittich, Bark River Rte. 1, failing to stop in the assured clear distance; and Dale P. Johnson, Bark River Rte. 1, failing to exercise due care.

The death of a dog, apparently poisoned, was reported to Escanaba police, who are investigating. The dog, owned by Jack Winters of 1505 16th Ave. S., died the afternoon of Jan. 12. The owner reported that a veterinarian said he believed the dog died of strychnine poisoning.

A civil suit scheduled to go on trial before Justice Bernard H. Davidson in Circuit Court for Delta County Monday has been settled, County Clerk William E. Butler reported Friday.

The jury for the term has been dismissed for duty until Monday, Jan. 22, at 9:30 a.m. The action settled was the suit of George Chaudoir, 610 S. 10th St., and National Biscuit Co. against General Motors. Manistique Area Millage Lowest Of U.P. Districts

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Area Board of Education levies the least amount of local operational millage of any school district in the Upper Peninsula.

And that, according to Supt. of Schools Edwin Wuehle, is one of the main reasons the Board of Education will ask voters of the district to approve an additional 5.5 mill tax at a special election Feb. 16.

The district, despite added instructional fees this year which range from $3.50 for kindergarten to $13 for high school students and a reduced program, is expected to conclude the 1967-68 school year with a deficit of about $20,000.

If approved, the millage would raise about $128,700 based on Manistique's state equalized valuation of $23,400,000.

Currently, the Manistique Area Board of Education levies a total of 10.2 mills locally for school operation, 6.2 mills allocated and 4.0 extra voted. Local millage throughout the Upper Peninsula for school operation goes as high as 39.990 mills with an average of about 17.3, according to a report by Donald S. Brumbaugh, superintendent of the Norway-Vulcan Schools.

On another basis, Manistique rates 42nd in operational tax per membership child, collecting locally an average of $123.10 for each enrolled student. The high figure in the Upper Peninsula is $1,149 per student from local source, according to Brumbaugh.

Although the added instructional fees collected from parents of students increase the local contribution, the Board of Education has approved a resolution to eliminate the fees which were added this year if the millage passes.

Wuehle pointed out that for many families the added tax will be less than the instructional fees currently paid.

According to figures prepared by the Board of Education and superintendent, a "Yes" vote Feb. 16 would mean that property assessed at $10,000 would be taxed additionally at the rate of less than 16 cents per day. For a $5,000 valuation, the added tax would be less than eight cents per day.

Figured yearly, the additional tax on a $10,000 valuation would be about $55 and on a $5,000 valuation $27.50.

Installation

Planning for the installation of the Most Rev. Charles A. Salatk, 49, auxiliary bishop of Grand Rapids, as bishop of the Diocese of Marquette progresses after announcement of the retirement of Bishop Thomas L. Noa on Jan. 10.

Monsignors McKevitt, Casanova and Szoka of the chancery of the Diocese of Marquette are to confer with Bishop Salatk next week. Ordinarily the installment would take place before Lent, but there may be some delays because of commitments of Bishop Salatk.

Charles Gabel of Our Sunday Visitor, diocesan publication, said an announcement of the installation is probable next week.

Where You Save Does Make A Difference!

Below is an example of two accounts both with identical balances and activity...but look at the difference in interest received! The first one is a Northern Michigan National Bank daily interest account, the second is a hypothetical Bank No. 1—4% interest account. (Their method is quite commonly used by financial institutions in calculating interest.)

Where You Save Does Make A Difference!

(Example — Northern Michigan National Bank)

| DATE | WITHDRAWAL | DEPOSIT | INTEREST | BALANCE |
|----------|------------|---------|----------|------------|
| 1. 9/1 | | | | $1,000.00 |
| 2. 9/7 | | 500.00 | | 1,500.00 |
| 3. 10/7 | | 500.00 | | 2,000.00 |
| 4. 11/4 | | 500.00 | | 2,500.00 |
| 5. 11/20 | 1,000.00 | | 1,500.00 | |
| 6. 12/1 | | | 17.79 | 1,517.79 |

At NORTHERN MICHIGAN NATIONAL BANK all deposits receive daily interest...from the date of deposit!

At NORTHERN MICHIGAN NATIONAL BANK on withdrawals the amount withdrawn receives daily interest up to the date of withdrawal.

(Example — Hypothetical Bank No. 1)

| DATE | WITHDRAWAL | DEPOSIT | INTEREST | BALANCE |
|----------|------------|---------|----------|------------|
| 1. 9/1 | | | | $1,000.00 |
| 2. 9/7 | | 500.00 | | 1,500.00 |
| 3. 10/7 | | 500.00 | | 2,000.00 |
| 4. 11/4 | | 500.00 | | 2,500.00 |
| 5. 11/20 | 1,000.00 | | | 1,500.00 |
| 6. 12/1 | | | 6.67 | 1,506.67 |

In Bank No. 1 all deposits receive daily interest only if deposited before the 5th day of the month; if deposited after the 5th day of the month, interest is calculated from the 1st day of the following month.

At Bank No. 1 amounts withdrawn during the interest period are subtracted from the beginning balance thus reducing your balance for interest purposes.

The DIFFERENCE IN INTEREST in this example between NORTHERN MICHIGAN NATIONAL BANK and Bank No. 1 is $11.12 or 160%.
